John C. Hamilton, son of the immortal Alexander Hamilton, died at Long Branch on Tuesday, at the ripe old age of 90 years. He was 12 years of age when his father was killed by Aaron Burr.

The Cabinet had a meeting on Tuesday, and discussed the question of political assessments. The President gave his views fully and freely. He believed in the principle of contributing to political campaigns; but no person in any one of the executive departments declining to contribute shall on that account be subject to discharge or criticism, and no attempt to injure him on this ground will be countenanced or tolerated.

County Clerk Morgan has received from the several towns of the county the statement of the principal farm products grown in the county during the year 1881. As it is of general interest to the public we publish the report in full:

	Bushels.
Wheat.....	10,133
Corn.....	78,309
Oats.....	25,349
Barley.....	2,349
Rye.....	2,349
Potatoes.....	162,500
Root crops.....	15,000
Apples.....	15,000
Clover seed.....	4,000
Timothy seed.....	1,000
Flax.....	2,119
Tobacco.....	1,000
Butter.....	1,000
Cheese.....	1,000

From the same source, the following are the number of acres of farm products growing the present season:

	Acres.
Wheat.....	10,133
Corn.....	78,309
Oats.....	25,349
Barley.....	2,349
Rye.....	2,349
Potatoes.....	162,500
Root crops.....	15,000
Apples.....	15,000
Clover seed.....	4,000
Timothy seed.....	1,000
Flax.....	2,119
Tobacco.....	1,000
Butter.....	1,000
Cheese.....	1,000

There has been a decrease in the acreage of wheat, an increase of 8,000 acres in the acreage of corn, a slight decrease in the acreage of oats, and an increase of over a 1,000 acres in the acreage of tobacco, the average this year being 6,282.

A few days ago the Gazette mentioned the fact that the citizens of Batavia, New York, had subscribed $12,000 as a bonus to the Johnston Harvester Company to locate in that place; and right here it will interest the people of Janesville to learn more in regard to that enterprise and what other cities were willing and anxious to do to secure the Johnston Harvester factory. It will be remembered that the company was burned out at Brookport in June last. Before the ruins had cooled off, the company began to receive inducements in the shape of money and land to locate at some other point.

Detroit, Mich., offered 20 acres of land, Toledo and Sandusky, O., each offered $50,000 in cash and substantial offers were received from over fifty towns and cities whose people desired the factory located in their midst, and had the enterprise and foresight to see that generous encouragement of manufacturing is a good investment for any town. The people of Batavia finally secured the location of the factory in their town by the payment of a bonus of $52,000 in cash and 17 acres of land lying along the railway tracks. While this seems like a large sum to give to a rich manufacturing corporation, yet any one familiar with the benefits to be derived from the location of such a factory in a town, can but see that the people of Batavia have made a wise investment, a good share of which has already been returned by the advances in real estate.

The profits of manufacturing are reduced to the very lowest point by the sharp competition in all branches of business. It is therefore all the more needful that the people of any town who desire to secure manufacturing in their midst should offer substantial inducements in cash or land or both and in every possible way encourage the formation of such enterprises.

Let the wise hearted capitalists of Janesville consider this matter, and be on the lock-out to secure the location of factories in our midst, thus bringing profit to themselves and prosperity to our city.

THE ASSASSIN.

He Got Twenty Pounds for His Share of the Horrid Deed.

St. Thomas, July 25.—The Herald special says: The assassin of Lord Frederick Cavendish, who was arrested at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, gives his name as William Westgate. He was arrested on the 16th inst. on his own confession. He shipped on the 8th of May under the name of O'Brien on the British bark Gladstone, from Swansea to Caracas. He says he left Dublin on the 8th of May, by steamer to Swansea. The names of three of his accomplices and other details of the murders were taken by depositions before the British Consul. He says that he was employed by Mr. O'Connor and other influential persons. Parties who have seen the man give credence to his confession. In appearance the man is tall and slender. He says that the price of the deed was £20 to each of the assassins. He said that £20 were worth more to him than £100 to an Englishman's life. He believed that the Venezuelan Government will surrender him, although there is no extradition treaty.

POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The members of the Republican National Campaign Committee felt elated at the official expression at the Cabinet meeting to-day of the President's views regarding political assessments. One of them, in speaking of this matter to the Republican-Sentinel representative, this evening, said: "The President has taken a stand full in accord with the position assumed by our committee from the start. He says no person in any one of the executive departments declining to contribute shall on that account be subject to discharge or criticism, or no attempt to injure him on this ground will be countenanced or tolerated. Now that is precisely what we have said time and again. Mr. Hubbell has repeated in his letter to the civil service reformers, and the Republican members of Congress have reiterated it again and again on the floor of the House. It has been conclusively shown that no one was ever discharged or annoyed in any of the Executive Departments, for failing to contribute to the Republican campaign fund, and the civil service reformers have in vain been appealing to point out a single instance of the kind. It is to be hoped that this assurance, coming directly from the President, will effectually silence the silly charge. The President goes further, however, and absolutely sustains the action Campaign Committee by repeating what he said in his letter of acceptance in 1880: 'I will not, by the acceptance of public office, whether high or low, one does not, in my judgment, escape any of his responsibilities as a citizen, and that he should enjoy absolute liberty to think and speak and act in political matters according to his own will and conscience, provided that he only honorably, faithfully and fully discharge his official duties. This means, of course, that the government employees, if they are to have a perfect right to pay 2 per cent. of their salaries to the political party in whose principles they believe. That is all we have ever claimed, and in that you see we are fully sustained.'"

VIRGINIA DUELISTS.

CHRISTIANSBURG, Va., July 25.—Captain John S. Wise, Radjaster candidate for Congressman-at-large, and John Crockett, Commonwealth Attorney of Wythe County, came to this place on an early train this morning and fought a duel near by with pistols. In the first round both fired at the word without effect. At the second round Crockett's pistol went off prematurely. After reloading the weapon, both combatants were placed in position for another exchange of shots. Wise's pistol missed fire, and Crockett's fired again harmless. Crockett, the challenger party, expressed himself as satisfied, and the fight terminated. The meeting had its origin in a personal rencontre which took place on Monday, the 17th inst., at Marion, when Captain Wise met Crockett and interrogated him about certain language which Crockett attributed to Wise. Crockett acknowledged he made the statement and said it was true. Wise demanded it as false and struck Crockett. Before the latter could respond the blow outsiders intervened and both were arrested and fined for a breach of the peace. This caused a subsequent correspondence, which resulted in the duel. No arrests.

MONTANA GOVERNORSHIP.

MILWAUKEE, July 25.—The friends of Colonel J. A. Watrous, one of the editors of the Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph, will urge his appointment as Governor of Montana. The Colonel served four years in the late war, and at its close was Adjutant General of the Iron Brigade. He served a term in the Assembly fifteen years ago, and was the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fond du Lac district in 1870. He is a general favorite in this city as well as throughout the State.

THE RACINE ENCAMPMENT.

RACINE, July 25.—A detail from each company of the First Regiment arrived here to-day and pitched 103 tents in Camp Erskine. It is expected that about 1,000 people from other places will attend the encampment exercises. Great preparations have been made for a right royal time, and a gala week is anticipated.

Milton.

—Two beautiful oil paintings, the work of Miss May C. Baldwin, of Janesville, were shown in the Democrat office yesterday. The accomplished young artist is a guest of Mrs. E. D. Plumb, of this city. The art department of the Milton college is proud to acknowledge Miss B. as the one in charge of the same.—Milton Democrat.

—Dr. Flieger, of Clinton, visited relatives here this week.

—Milton will be largely represented at the Sunday School Assembly, a large delegation going up Tuesday, and many others are intending to go the latter part of the week.

—R. G. Borden, who has been visiting his brother at St. Paul, for ten days past, came home Tuesday morning.

—Col. George R. Clark, of Chicago, was among the strangers on our streets last Tuesday.

AN ILLUSTRIOUS EXAMPLE.

The following little note clipped from a Madison dispatch to the Republican Sentinel, caught our eye recently and we reproduce it here in order to say a word or two about the promoted instructor.

"Mr. Lucius Heritage, at present an instructor in the University, was raised to the position of assistant professor of Latin, which appears to be a preliminary step to elevating him to a full professorship."

Away back in the ante-bellum days we knew the now "Assistant Professor of Latin" as a slim, pale-faced lad in the little town of Milton. We went off to war, were gone four years and a quarter, and then spent three years more in Chicago and finally went back to Milton to teach Mathematics in the College; and now, when we find in one of our high or classes but the same lad, then grown to be a man, tall and as straight as an arrow. He was finishing his collegiate course and had been obliged to stop in the meantime and work for a year or more in a Janesville wagon shop to earn some money and to regain his health, which was never robust. But what a scholar he was! General Geometry and Calculus were almost like child's play to him, and Greek and Latin were absorbed as though either was his native tongue. He seemed to have a perfect genius for preparing his lessons; but the secret came out one day and showed that he had that best of all geniuses, the genius for hard work. When asked how he managed to always have such perfect lessons, he simply said that ten hours a day at the bench was nothing to the labor he put on his tasks. He had an enormous capacity and inclined for hard work and that obstinate tenacity of purpose which lasts to the triumphant end.

After graduating he taught Markham Academy in Milwaukee and in the High School in St. Paul, then spent a year or more in Germany and some two years ago was made instructor of Latin in the State University with the result, chemical. He is doubtless one of the best Latin scholars in the State, being able to converse with ease in that difficult language and to use a very close approximation to the correct German in his classes. He is busily engaged in preparing a Latin text with critical and explanatory notes which will probably be published in due time and if health and strength are spared him his future will certainly be one of brilliant scholarship. No more splendid example can be found in the State of what a young man may do if he will and the more such young men the University calls to its aid the better for the cause of education, as well as of profound learning.—Editha Independent.

Fulton.

Corn and tobacco growing rapidly. The Fulton boys ballists do not yet give up to the Porter club although the latter beat them. The next game will be played soon.

Mr. Alfred Hubbell is erecting a very fine house, Mr. Shoemaker is also making a fine improvement in the same way.

H. Pomeroy struck a good thing when he bought the right for the horse house. This machine saves the labor of many men in tobacco and corn.

Quite a number of our farmers used tobacco this year on tobacco plants but as yet see no benefit.

The dam is not yet repaired but will be as soon as help can be procured. Some of our sportsmen are training their horses; if "practice makes perfect" we shall yet turn out some fast horses.

Quite a number of Fulton boys will attend the shoot at Janesville this week. Although the Fulton Mills are not grinding, a good supply of flour is kept on hand.

Johnstown Center.

—Hot, hotter, hottest! That is about the grade of the weather since this week opened; but it's just what we want for corn, and it is climbing southward at a rate that promises a fair yield, notwithstanding the numerous predictions that it would be a total failure.

—During the nineteen years that W. A. Pickett was overseer of the county poor house, there were 100 deaths, and nearly all of those were buried on the grounds just north of the county building.

—Last Sunday evening we dropped into the church at old Johnstown, and found a large audience gathered to listen to the Rev. Wilson, on the subject of "Woman's Rights." He gave a very interesting and practical talk on this much vexed question, and announced that in two weeks from that time he would give a sermon especially for the benefit of the sick and middle-aged, and gave a general invitation to all of this class within a radius of 50 miles to come out and hear him.

—We have no account that Adam and Eve ever had a birthday surprise party during their stay in the Garden of Eden, or for that matter at any time in their earthly pilgrimage. Guess it was not fashionable in that early period of the world's history. But in these latter times we rather pity that young lady who passes out of her teens without having at least one of these matrimonial events. Please let the above serve as a sufficient prelude to introduce the party that gathered at the residence of the Hon. Mr. Newbury, last Friday evening, to impress, if possible, more forcibly upon the mind of her daughter, Della, the fact that she had reached her nineteenth birthday. The company that took possession of the house and premises on this occasion numbered about forty. We don't know that there are any set rules by which a genuine birthday surprise party can be run successfully, but we do know that there was never more real wholesome pleasure enjoyed than during these hours, which were given up to music and promenades and ice cream and presentation and acceptance speeches over the beautiful prospect etc. We felt in love with well-served dishes of ice cream and as many square feet of delicious cake, and if it had not been for the wise suggestion of some of our friends that it was time to break ranks and go home, we might not have been able to have furnished this brief batch of facts on this occasion.
